Of the Capital is Expected

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 13.—Mexico
City was reported quiet today and
officials here expected all conditions
to improve with the occupation of the Zapata forces.

Secretary Bryan said: "I think
we are in pretty good shape. Carranza has promised to permit people
leaving the capital to travel over the
portion of the railroad he controls
while the Zapata general in command there has undertaken to admit
food supplies."

The whereabouts of General Obre-gon, commanding the Carranza force,
which evacuated the city, is not known here. Some importance is attached to it by officials because of the bearing it will have on Carranza's forces and his ability to maintain himself at Vera Cruz.

No further reports were received today on the killing of John M. Mc-Manus by Zapata troops. With the assurance from the Zapata commander that the guilty men would be punished, officials awaited the result of the detailed inquiry and a response from the Zapata authorities
to the American demand for indemnity to the American's family.

ANXIETY FELT FOR AMERICANS' SAFETY
IN MEXICAN CAPITAL.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 13.—Anxiety
for the safety of Americans in Mexico City continued evident here today, although administration officials
expressed the hope that Zapata
forces, who now occupy the city,
would maintain order. Rapid-fire
evacuation and occupation of the capital has brought such a chaotic condition of affairs, however, that some
officials and diplomats believe no
foreigners' lives are safe.

The killing on March 11 of John B. McManus, the American dairy
owner, in Mexico City, for which Zapata troops were reported responsible, did not intend to increase confidence in government circles that affairs would be maintained in a stable fashion.

It was expected that General Salazar, post commander at Mexico City
would promptly carry out his intention to punish the guilty and make reparation to the family of the victim in response to demands of the American government. The Brazil.

Harry Thaw Acquitted Of Conspiracy Charge; May Soon be Free Man

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, March 13.—Harry K.
Thaw was acquitted today of conspiracy in escaping from the Mattea-wan asylum, August 17, 1913, the

HARRY K. THAW

charge upon which he was brought back to New York from New Hampshire. Roger Thompson, Richard J.
Butler, Eugene Duffy and Thomas

Flood, the four men who assisted him
in his spectacular flight by automobile from Matteawan to Canada, likewise were acquitted.

The jury, which acquitted Thaw,
had labored all night and until 12.20 o'clock this afternoon, in an effort to reach a verdict.

As soon as the verdict was announced Thaw was given into the custody of Sheriff Gritenbagen of New York county.

The four co-defendants were discharged.

A motion to have Thaw committed to Matteawan asylum as an insane
person was made by Deputy Attorney General Cook immediately after the jury had rendered its verdict. This motion was combatted by Thaw's
counsel who announced that inasmuch as Thaw was brought here on the conspiracy charge and found not guilty, he should be returned to the state of New Hampshire as a sane man.

Formal motion that he be so returned was then made by Thaw's lawyers.

Justice Page announced that he would hear arguments on this motion next Monday afternoon, March 15.

In the meantime Thaw was remanded to the Tombs.

LONG RANGE BOMBARDMENT STRAIT FORTS

PAIR OF DAMAGE

Turkish Marksmanship Has Improved—Muslims on Coast Fled to Interior.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, March 12.—Long range bombardment of the Dardanelles fortifications was resumed yesterday
(Thursday) by the allied fleet, according to an Athens despatch to the Havas agency. No information has been obtained as to the results of the operation.

The warships, the dispatch says,
did not enter the Straits and their object seemed to be to prevent the Turks by long distance fire from repairing certain forts which had been damaged. A bridge two miles from Kaleisi, over which supplies and ammunition were transported from the Gallipoli, is reported to have been destroyed.

"Turkish marksmanship has improved," says the dispatch, "probably owing to the presence of German gunners, but the ammunition is of poor quality and many of the shells
failed to explode."

"Muslims living in the coast
districts have fled into the interior
and several villages have been evacuated by the Turks."

Cash Register Decision. In Favor of the Officials, Under a Jail Sentence

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cincinnati, O., March 13.—The United States circuit court of appeals today reversed the lower court
in the case of the government
against John H. Patterson, president, and twenty-six other officials or former officials of the National Cash Register company of Dayton, O., and remanded it back to the district court for a new trial. Mr. Patterson and his associates were found guilty
of violating the Sherman anti-trust
law and sentenced to serve prison
terms and fined.

The decision, which was read by United States Judge A. N. J. Cochran
of Kentucky, was lengthy and more than two hours was required in the reading. The decision contained a review of the case in the district
court, taking up the various counts
one by one. It laid stress upon the fact that the trial court had told the jury that the defendants could not be found guilty on the first count
charging conspiracy, unless they had conspired within the three years.

It continued in part: "But the defendants were entitled to have the jury instructed specifically that they could not be found guilty as to the competitors who ceased to exist before 1907. The defendants asked specific instructions to this effect.

These instructions were given to six of them. They should have been given as to the other twenty. That such instructions were given as to six made it more prejudicial that they were not given as to the other twenty."

"The defendants also requested the giving of three instructions embodying certain general propositions as to what it was not unlawful for the defendants to do in their separate capacities as officers and agents of the National, to wit:

"First: To require the agents of their company to report the names of persons who had purchased cash registers from competitors, or to secure samples of the machines from time
to time, put on the market by competitors."

"Second: To sell or offer, or try to sell National Cash Registers to persons who had bought and owned competing registers in exchange at such price as was satisfactory to the parties."

"Third: To compare by comparative demonstrations or otherwise
competitive cash registers with National Cash Registers for the purpose
of demonstrating the superiority of National Cash Registers and thereby

Thirty thousand dollars worth

COMMISSIONERS IN AGREEMENT TO SAVE $36,000

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, O., March 13.—Members of the public utilities commission and the efficiency department of the state civil service commission
have reached an agreement by which $36,000 can be saved annually in the utilities commission's management. Charles H. Bryson, civil service commissioner, told the Howard department survey legislative committee today. Commissioner Bryson previously had recommended an efficiency system by which $25,000
could be saved in that department,
through eliminating useless employes
and reducing salaries.

The new plan will eliminate nine appraisal engineers, but leave the salary of those retained at $1800,
instead of being reduced to $1200 as
the house finance committee first
drew the short term appropriation bill. The bill as passed, provided the higher salary.

JOSEPH MAXER IS BILLIARD CHAMPION

(Associated Press Telegram)
Philadelphia, March 13.—By winning the title held by E. W. Gardner of New York, in the tournament
which closed last night, Joseph Max-
er, of this city, for the second time
became amateur billiard champion of America. Maxer, who also held the title in 1913, showed the best
form of any of the contestants, winning six games and losing none. He made the highest run of the tournament and won the prizes for the high average.

Italy Complicated and Some Urge Casting Lot With Allies Now, Not Wait Until Her Aid Is Not Needed

(Associated Press Telegram)
Rome (via Paris), March 13.—
The Italian government continues to maintain an impenetrable silence regarding negotiations reported to be under way with Austria, concerning territorial concessions. Nothing has been added to the semi-official announcement that Italy has instituted
no negotiations, but simply has listened to proposals emanating from Germany through that country's ambassador, Prince von Buelow.

There are persistent reports in Rome that Austria has refused absolutely to even discuss the possible
cession of Trieste and would concede
only a small part of the province of Trent.

Count Sergius Witte.

M. Witte Is Dead; Premier In First Russian Cabinet

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, March 13.—Count Sergius
Julovich Witte, Russia's first prime minister, died last night, says a Petrograd dispatch to Reuters Telegram company.

Count Witte, who was born June 29, 1849, at Gatchina, was one of the Russian plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth, N. H., in the negotiations for peace with Japan, in 1905. He afterwards was made a count and appointed president of the new ministry, but retired in 1906 and held no
important post after that time.

Count Witte was taken sick a week ago.

Count Witte was regarded as in some respects as one of the most remarkable men his country had produced, but his reputation was even greater abroad than at home. Throughout his career, during which he accomplished much for Russia, he had many powerful enemies, although his greatest ability and remarkable capacity for work never was questioned.
Regardless of his work as a statesman, his chief fame in Russia rests
upon his development of manufacturing industries, the expansion of railroads and the placing of the monetary system upon a gold basis.

Although always a firm supporter of the monarchy, he recognized the power of the people and had democratic tendencies. On his father's side his family was of common origin, but his mother was a descendant of the Rurik, old-time rulers of Russia, before the election of the Romanoff

dynasty.

After his graduation from the University of Odessa, Witte entered the railroad service in the shipping department.

Alexander III appointed the count
minister of railways and communications in 1892 and soon afterwards minister of finance. It was then that he began to develop his great scheme
for the creation of home manufactures
and the true extension of Russia's railroad system which eventually took
the Siberian road to the Pacific.

In his efforts along these lines
Witte used every power of the state
to give subvention and government
guarantees until factories and mills were jumping full blast. Then he had the state take over the private railroads.
The state treasury guaranteeing the bonds. To do this, he borrowed immense sums in France. Under the plea of regulating the liquor trade, he had the state take over the vodka
business of the empire, thus vastly increasing the government revenue. His greatest achievement was regarded,
however, as the establishment of the gold standard. As minister of finance, in 1893, he reached the height of his power.

His policy in regard to Manchuria,
which he designed to develop only

BRITISH FLAG ON ATLANTIC LINER ARRIVING TODAY

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, March 13.—The White Star liner Arabic, flying the British flag, reached New York from Liverpool today with 537 passengers and 3264 sacks of mail, said to be the largest consignment ever sent from England to America. Passengers
said torpedo boat destroyers accompanied the vessel from the mouth of the Mersey out to sea to protect them from attack by German submarines.

More than fifty steamers were tied up at the Liverpool docks, the Arabic's passengers said, because of the dock laborers' strike.

The departure of the Arabic was delayed by the strike and her engineers were obliged to assist in getting aboard her cargo.

TRACK ATHLETE DEAD.

Chicago, March 13.—William A.
Maloney, 37, who was considered one of the best middle-distance runners
in the country, died at his home here
yesterday of heart disease.

Maloney with his brother Frederick, was the mainstay of the University of Chicago track teams from 1895 to 1901.

LINCOLN'S BODY GUARD DEAD

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 13.—Colonel W. H. Cook, disbursing officer of the White House who was President Lincoln's body
guard and who has been intimately acquainted with every president since 1860, died today, at his home here. He has been sick with pneumonia more than a week.

President Wilson expressed
deep regret when informed of Colonel Cook's death. Last January, the colonel celebrated his fiftieth anniversary as an attache of the White House.

Colonel Cook was survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary A.
Garton, who is 96 years old.

CAPTAIN OF FRYE TELLS OF SINKING

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 13.—The full story of how the American sailing ship William P. Frye, was sunk in the south Atlantic, with her cargo of wheat by the German commerce
raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich, was officially laid before the American government today by the Frye's commander, Captain H. H. Kiehne.

Upon Captain Kiehne's formal
statement, made before state department officials, the United States will decide upon its course, which probably will be a demand for an expression of regret from Germany and payment for the loss of the ship and cargo.

Captain Kiehne, with assistant Secretary Peters, of the treasury department went to the state department, where he was received by Secretary Bryan and then went into a conference with Counselor Lansing,
at which the members of the advisory neutrality board, and representatives of the owners of the Frye
were present. The captain's detailed statement was taken for record.

Captain Kiehne was questioned at length as to the procedure of the German commander from the time
the Frye was sighted until the Americans were landed safely in port. The American captain submitted willingly to search and assured the German he had no cargo but wheat. The German officers examined the ship's papers carefully, he said, and then
the cargo was ordered thrown overboard.

While that was being done, the Eitel went away for another prize,
returning to the Frye after several hours and took off the American skipper and his crew. The Eitel captain then sunk the Frye, fearing a long delay, in what he considered the path of hostile cruisers, might subject his own ship to danger.

Captain Kiehne said that he did not know, while enroute to Queenstown that the cargo of wheat had been sold, nor did the German commander. The cargo was shipped "to order," and the vessel was to stop at three British ports, one of which was fortified. While no vessels were sunk, nor was any chase made for enemy ships while the Americans
were aboard the Eitel, Captain Kiehne said the German commander
made no effort for more than a month to land his neutral passengers in a safe port.

Undoubtedly that may be one of the chief points of future representations by the United States, because it is held that the Americans were subjected to unnecessary risks.

German Ambassador Justifies the Sinking Of American Sailing Ship

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 13.—Count Bernstorff, German ambassador, in discussing with the state department officials today the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye, defended the action of Captain Thier-ichens of the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, contending that he acted under the Declaration of London, which was the only guide he had as to disposition of prizes.

The ambassador before going to the state department, conferred with Captain Boy-Ed, naval attache of the embassy, who returned yesterday
from Newport News, where he went to hear the story of the sinking of the American vessel from the commander of the Prinz Eitel.

Count Bernstorff did not present
any note to the state department and
said he had received no instructions from his government. He said he called to discuss the question informally and to learn what was the view of the United States.

In defending the action of Commander Thierichens, the ambassador contended that when the officer left Tsing-Tau at the outbreak of the war last August he had nothing to follow but the declaration of London
in deciding what to do with vessels

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, March 13.—In the east, the battle of Przashnys is now in its opening stages, and in the west, the operations are under La Bassee, where the Germans are massing troops in an endeavor to regain the ground recently taken by British and Indian contingents, are expected to develop into events of military importance during the coming week.

The allied fleet meantime, is continuing its efforts to force the straits
of the Dardanelles, the bombardment having been renewed Wednesday and Thursday. The allies, however, do not claim that any more important forts
have been reduced. Much depends on the weather, and the bombardments
of this week have been hampered by unfavorable weather conditions. Plans are going forward however, for extensive land operations when the time comes, and France is today concentrating forces in North Africa for this purpose. A part of this land expedition is on its way.

Belated dispatches from Constantinople continue to get through to London. They all assert that the allied fleet had not, up to last Sunday, done
any great damage to Turkish forts.
The fire of the ships was described as scattered and ineffective. The latest of these messages refer exclusively to
the bombardment of last Sunday,
March 7, the British and French official versions of which were published last Tuesday.

The British military writers agree
unanimously that the recent fighting
near La Bassee was the most important in which the British forces have been engaged since Ypres.

There is considerable speculation in England as to what has happened to the British army, concerning which nothing has been heard in weeks. The official announcements from Nish
ceased sometime ago, and it is not known what, if any, operations the Serbian army is engaged in.

Disease is rampant throughout Serbia, according to special news dispatches, one of which describes this sinister attack as far worse than the first Austrian invasion. The city of Nish, whither the Serbian capital was removed, when Belgrade was bombarded, is said to be overcrowded with sick and dying. Everywhere hospital
conditions are pitifully inadequate
and the country faces devastation
worse than war.

he might seize. For that reason, the ambassador argued, he had a right to sink the Frye as "its cargo of wheat was consigned 'to order,' and destined to a fortified port of the enemy. So long as there was no port into which he could take his prize, he had a right, the ambassador contended, to destroy not only the cargo, but
the vessel itself.

Furthermore the ambassador argued that the commander of the Prinz Eitel when he sank the Frye did not know that a German prize court
on August 3, had held that the mere fact that a merchant ship was bound for an enemy port, was not sufficient proof that her cargo was destined for the enemy.

The case of the Frye, however, the ambassador said, would have to be settled in accordance with international law, because of the present
status of the declaration of London.
"We do not intend," he said, "to disregard any of the judicial decisions in the case."

RUSHING

FROM SOUTHLAND ON SPECIAL
TRAIN TO HER OF WIFE

John D. Rockefeller and Son Expected
This Afternoon—Funeral
Not Yet Decided.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Cleveland, March 12.—Neither Mrs. W. C. Rudd, sister of John D. Rockefeller, nor her husband will be able to attend the funeral of Mrs. Rockefeller, who died at her home at Pocomtice Hills, Tarrytown, N. Y., yesterday, as both are ill.

While the Rudd family said the place of burial of Mrs. Rockefeller would be left to the decision of Mr. Rockefeller, when he arrived from Florida, probably late today, they reiterated their belief that the body will be brought here to Lakeview, where other members of the Rockefeller family are buried.

H. Ellis, superintendent of the Rockefeller Forest Hill estate here, said today that he expected word from New York to open up the home here, preparatory to the arrival of the body of Mrs. Rockefeller.

Among those buried in the Rockefeller plot marked by a mammoth obelisk in Lakeview cemetery, are Mrs. Eliza Rockefeller, mother of John D. Rockefeller; Mrs. Lucy Briggs, a sister of Mr. Rockefeller; an infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller and several of the Rockefeller grandchildren.

DAUGHTER WAS IN SWITZERLAND ILL
WHEN DEATH CAME.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Tarrytown, N. Y., March 12.—Plans for the funeral of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, who died at her home here yesterday morning, were held in abeyance today to await the arrival of Mr. Rockefeller and his son, who were speeding north in a special train from Orlando, Fla. They were due to reach Pocomtice Hills, late this afternoon or this evening.

In the absence of definite plans, however, it was regarded as probable that funeral services would be held here tomorrow afternoon and that Mrs. Rockefeller would be buried at Cleveland, Ohio, where she grew to womanhood and where she spent much of her time in recent years.

Only one member of the Rockefeller family, it was thought, would be unable to attend the funeral. This is Mrs. Harold Fowler McCormick, of Chicago. Mrs. Rockefeller's daughter who is now in Switzerland recovering from an illness. Mrs. B. Parmelee Prentice, the other daughter and Miss Lucy M. Spellman, Mrs. Rockefeller's sister, were both at the Rockefeller home here today. The arrival of Mr. Rockefeller and his son will complete the family circle, with this single exception.

had been touched up by the painter's brush, the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich moved today from the drydock where she had lain since yesterday into a shipyard preparatory to undergoing repairs. There she will await a decision by the United States government on the request of Captain Thierichens for time to repair his vessel.

The Washington authorities will base their decision in the matter on the report of a naval board of constructors, which made a survey of the Prinz Eitel. This report was on its way to Washington today.

CREWS OF EITEL'S
VICTIMS AWAITING
PASSAGE TO FRANCE.

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, March 12.—Crews of four ships sunk by the Prinz Eitel Friedrich here today awaiting transportation to France, agreed that while the Germans did not treat them badly, the conditions suggest the prisoners aboard the German converted cruiser might have been better. The captains and twenty-five officers of these ships signed a written statement, which said that "the food was detestable and insufficient and the supply of water short and salty." The party includes 74 men from the Florida, 24 from the Pierre Loti, twenty-three from the Jacobson, all French vessels, and 13 from the Russian bark Isabel Browne. The French consul is taking care of them and preparing to send them to France on the steamship Niagara tomorrow.

induce the prospective purchaser to purchase the National Cash Register. "No objections can be made to the first proposition, but the other two were too broad. They need qualification. It is unlawful for defendants to do as stated in the second proposition if the doing thereof involved the purchaser and owner of the competing cash register breaking his contract with the competitor in any particular or was done for the purpose of driving the competitor out of the cash register field.

"It is wrong for one competitor to drive another competitor by unfair or illegal means.

"As to reporting purchasers of competing registers and to securing samples, it all depends on the manner in which the information in the one instance and the samples in the other were obtained or secured. If in a proper manner nothing unlawful was done.

"We are constrained, therefore, to reverse the judgment of the lower court and remand the case for a new trial and further proceedings consistent therewith."

President John H. Patterson of the National Cash Register company, following the rendering of the decision, said:

"The decision is gratifying to us. It is what we naturally expected. We hope now to be able to give our undivided attention to the business and thereby be in a better position to take advantage of the great prosperity which we feel is soon to break upon this country."

United States District Attorney Sherman McPherson, who conducted the case for the government, said:

"I can say nothing at present, other than the fact that I had hoped for something different."

The upper court based its action upon its finding that the first count of the indictment, which charged the defendants with being guilty of conspiracy to restrain trade in violation of the Sherman act, had not been proved by the evidence, and that the second and third were defective and should never have been permitted to enter into the trial of the case in the lower court. It is held that conspiracy had to be proved as existing within three years of the time the indictment was drawn and that the government failed to offer convincing evidence to sustain the charges. "There is no such thing as a reasonable conspiracy," the court declared.

The decision holds that the second count is defective because of its uncertainty, and that the third count is defective because it is insufficient and does not charge an offense against the United States. Both of these counts charged that the defendants had tried to monopolize the cash register business in the United States.

"Actually doing business, no matter how large, is not monopoly," the court stated. "The competitors who were attacked should have called upon them to protect them while they were being attacked."

The court held that Judge Hollister had erred in not sustaining the demurrers to the two last counts, when they were raised by the attorneys for the defense.

"We think that there was a conspiracy against competitors during the years that the National Cash Register company was making its first fight," the appeals court continued, "but the evidence showing that a conspiracy did exist only brings us to the door of the three year period. It was for us to decide whether it had entered that door."

The appellate court then discussed the right of a patentee to defend his patents and declares that the only resort that he has to defend his rights is through the courts.

Contrary to the custom of simply announcing the result, Judge Cochran read the decision in its entirety. There were more than 60 pages of printed matter and the reading consumed two hours and five minutes. President Patterson and Attorney J. B. Hayward, both of Dayton, were the only defendants present in the courtroom, although every available place was occupied by spectators, most of whom were prominent attorneys. Attorneys Lawrence Maxwell of Cincinnati, John E. Wilson of Columbus and John McMahon of Dayton, were present for the defense. While District Attorney McPherson and Mr. Lott were there for the government, Judge Sater of Columbus sat with Judge Cochran during the reading of the decision.

RECITAL

AND LECTURE GIVEN BY MRS.
EDWARD McDOWELL A MU-SICAL OPPORTUNITY

And Representative Granville Audience Awaited Themselves of It
—News and Personals.

(Special to the Advocate.)

Granville, March 12.—The recital-lecture given in the Baptist church auditorium last evening by Mrs. Edward McDowell, was a great opportunity for Granville music lovers, for which they are indebted to the initiative of Dean Eschman of the Conservatory, and Prof. M. E. Stiekney, president of the Engwerson Choral society. While the big auditorium was not crowded, it was a representative and highly appreciative audience that greeted Mrs. McDowell, with a few of Newark's musicians among the number. Mrs. McDowell is a wonderful woman, engaged in active work for creative genius in music, in America, with a profound faith in the ability of America to produce great works of art; a woman, who, in spite of the difficulties of concert-giving, devotes her life to this work in order that ideals may come to pass. Truly, it was an inspiration to hear Mrs. McDowell talk about the Art Colony at Peterborough, New Hampshire. The atmosphere in American life is so commercial that the story of contemporaneous art works, as told by Mrs. Mac Dowell is refreshing indeed. Of very modest and pleasing temperament, Mrs. Mac Dowell made her program quite informal, introducing pictures of pageants and scenes related to Mac Dowell's music. She proved in her pianistic work, a technique entirely adequate and an interpretation, as she expressed it, not her own, but as near a "phonographic" record of the way Mac Dowell played, as possible. Among the many numbers which she graciously added to her program on request from the audience were: "From a Log Cabin," "1620," "To the Sea," "To a Waterlily," "Uncle Remus," "March Wind," "German Folk Song," "Witches Dance," "To a Wild Rose," "The Deserved Farm." At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Mac Dowell was surrounded by friends and admirers to congratulate her on her great success, or to enjoy the privilege of meeting one who means so much to the art world in America. To all her manner was cordial and gracious.

Mrs. J. S. Jones entertained Mrs. Edward Mac Dowell at "Bryn Du" farm during her stay in Granville, extending her delightful hospitality to several Granville people for afternoon tea and for dinner last evening. Those who met Mrs. Mac Dowell in the afternoon were Mrs. W. P. Ullman, Mrs. Howard Darrow, Mrs. Theodore Johnson, Mrs. Burton Case of the Women's Music club, and dinner guests were: President and Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain, Dean and Mrs. Karl Eschman, Prof. and Mrs. M. E. Stiekney, Miss Fannie J. Ferrar.

Mrs. James R. Hopler of Bucyrus is the guest for a day of Mrs. Burton Case.

Mrs. Theodore Johnson entertained Miss Mary Neal of Newark last night, who came to attend the recital-lecture by Mrs. Mac Dowell.

Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Jones and Miss Florence King of Newark were guests of Mrs. Fred Seymour at the Mac Dowell recital last evening.

Tomorrow (Sunday) evening at 7 o'clock, Rev. Bruce Kinney, D. D., well known to Granville people, will give an illustrated lecture in the Baptist church, on Home Mission work in the West. All are invited.

The Methodist church people are planning to hold special revival meetings from March 21st until Easter Sunday. Everyone is urged to get ready to attend and enjoy these meetings.

The Y. W. C. A. will not hold its regular meeting next Monday evening, but will present a pageant in Recital Hall at 7:45. This pageant represents the many different phases of Y. W. C. A. activities in our own country. A splendid music will be furnished by a quartet, Miss Dorothy McCann will represent the Association Spirit, and Jessie Burns the Spirit of Play. Eighty other girls will show just what Y. W. C. A. accomplishes. Every one is cordially invited. Admission free.

Mr. Henry W. Denning was speaker at a luncheon given in the Hotel Emerson, Baltimore, last Wednesday by the Advertising club of that city. Mr. Denning's topic was "Honesty in Advertising. Does It Pay?" and his answer was that honesty always paid, when backed up with thorough cooperation in every department of the business machine using the advertising. Mr. Denning is general sales manager for the Hoechst Manufacturing company of New Castle, Ind., which has built up a tremendously successful business.

A delightful meeting of the V. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. S.

E. Corson yesterday afternoon at her home in South Main street. Mrs. Sarah Meyers was leader of the Evangelistic meeting, and conducted the services with true devotional spirit. The program presented was full of interest and the social hour, with refreshments by the hostess, was duly enjoyed.

The weekly rehearsal of the Engwerson chorus in Recital hall on Monday evening will be held at 6:15 instead of at 7 o'clock on account of the V. W. C. A. pageant.

At a meeting of the Presbyterian church Thursday evening, it was unanimously voted to extend a call to Rev. E. D. Barnes of Galton, O., to fill the pulpit left vacant by the departure of Rev. J. L. Newell. It is expected that Mr. Barnes will take charge one week from tomorrow.

scribed in the official statement issued tonight by the ministry of marines. The communication says:

"During the day of the 10th, in bad weather, two British warships shelled two forts at Bulair (on the Gallipoli peninsula, on the gulf of Saros), while two other British battleships bombarded the light batteries which command the Bay of Morto, at the entrance to the Dardanelles.

"During the night of the 10th-11th mine sweepers entered the Straits under cover of the guns of a battleship and a cruiser and succeeded in operating in the first mine field, notwithstanding a hot fire from the guns of the defenses.

"French divisions resumed on the 11th operations begun the day before against the fortifications of Bulair and the light batteries above the Bay of Morto."

The above dispatch would seem to indicate that the allied fleet has not penetrated the Dardanelles as far as had been supposed or that the operations against the Turkish fortifications have not been entirely successful. Previous information has been to the effect that Chanak Kalesi and other forts at the narrowest part of the straits had been successfully bombarded, that about a third of the passage had been cleared of mines and that some of the more important batteries at the entrances to the straits had been silenced.

REPORT RECEIVED
AFTER PASSING THE CENSOR AT BERLIN.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Dardanelles, Sunday, March 7.—Via Constantinople, March 8.—Berlin March 8, and London March 13.—The fire today of the British ships upon the Dardanelles forts was scattered and virtually without effect.

From the point of vantage occupied by the Associated Press correspondent on shore, British shells could be seen falling wide of the mark.

During the early afternoon of today (March 7) the Turkish fire forced a British battleship in the gulf of Saros to retreat. The bombardment today of the Turkish positions on the straits led to no more results than did the fire of yesterday. At about 20 minutes past nine in the morning, four British vessels of the pre-dreadnaught type had taken up positions at a point off Dardanus on the Asiatic side. Their fire, observed from shore was very scattered and as usual in the last three days it was without effect.

During the operations of today, the fire of the British was directed at the forts at Hamidieh and Dardanus and the works about Kilit Bahr. The British fire was without system and in most cases the shells fell wide of their mark. The bombardment came to an end at 4:30 in the afternoon.

About a quarter past ten in the morning British vessels entered the fire zone of Dardanus and Kilit Bahr forts which replied promptly to their aggression. It was seen that two British vessels were struck and that they steamed quickly beyond range. All four of the ships taking part in this operation then maneuvered around the bay, firing at rangers on the Howitzers hidden in excellent positions in the hills. The firing was so brisk that the sound of it at one time was one continuous roar of detonations. The horizon was filled with drifting powder smoke.

It was learned today from Turkish medical officers that nobody was injured in the bombardment of the Dardanelles positions of Friday, March 5.

MINE SWEEPERS ARE

THE DARDANELLES.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Paris, March 12.—A dispatch to the Matin from Athens says that 70 small mine sweepers in the Dardanelles are reported to be continuing their efforts to clear the mine fields under the direction of officers representing the British and French navies.

"The allied fleets," says the Matin still have eight or 10 forts and a certain number of coast batteries to reduce but it is the general opinion they will enter the sea of Marmara within a fortnight if the land forces co-operating with them also can continue their advances."

(Associated Press Telegram)

Cleveland, March 12.—John Fallows shot and killed his wife and then turned the revolver on himself, inflicting a probable fatal wound early today, at Mrs. Fallows' home in East 197th street. Police say the couple had been living apart for some time and that when Fallows called on his wife, this morning, and old quarrel was renewed and the fatal shooting followed.

WILL GO TO RUSSIA.

Dr. H. H. Snively, who graduated at the Ohio State University in 1895, and is at present a Columbus physician, has just accepted a position tendered him by the Red Cross officials to direct a military hospital in Kiev, Russia. He will report to Major Robert Patterson, U. S. A., at Washington, March 18.

"I do not know how I came to receive this appointment, but I assume that I was selected because of the work I did with the Red Cross during the Ohio flood," said Dr. Snively.

Dr. Snively is well known to Newark doctors and has many patients in this city who will be interested in his trip.

INFIRMARY CONDITIONS.

On Thursday a company of people from Newark including Rev. Green and his wife, Miss Mary C. Monell and Mrs. M. Many of the inmates are enjoying the first good home of their lives. They are kept clean and are well fed and most comfortably housed.

Taft's Brother's Paper Praises Wilson.

There is no need to prove a self-evident fact, and no argument can strengthen the plain truth. People of every political creed are unanimous in their verdict upon one thing, and that is the high minded conservatism, yet firm, manly insistence upon the traditional, legal and treaty rights of the United States which has characterized the policy of President Wilson in his dealings with foreign nations both those engaged in war, and those with whom no neutral obligations intrude themselves.

At the time of present crises with Germany, Great Britain, and Mexico, new and momentous questions have arisen in the last few days, but with the calm dignity of a true statesman, who has a clear, comprehensive mental grasp of the relativity of our rights, privileges and responsibility, Woodrow Wilson has steered his course with care and deliberation, yet promptitude, and well poised assurance of the true principle that "righteousness exalteth a nation."

The following is from the Cincinnati Times-Star a conservative republican organ, owned by a brother of former President William H. Taft:

"President Wilson has a right to expect the support of a united people in the protests he has sent to the German and English governments. His attitude is not pro-English or a pro-German, but a pro-American attitude. He has followed the only course that it was possible for an American president, with an eye only to the duties and responsibilities of his own government to pursue."

Automobiles and Extravagance.

The tremendous increase of automobiles is accepted by many people as one of the signs of national extravagance. Of course in many cases machines are bought on borrowed money, or by mortgaging houses. The savings of a life time are burned up in the swiftly running gasoline tank.

But a very large part of the machines represent no extravagance whatever. Kansas, for instance, is a community of farms and thrifty people. It has about 1,750,000 population, and over 50,000 motor cars. Not all of this great army of drivers are spenders, nor are they all people of wealth.

One great reason why automobiles have been an extravagance is that so many people are so very helpless in caring for them. Although they may have but small means, they do not feel able to care for the machines themselves, but hire storage and cleaning and overhauling and minor repairs at some garage. They seem helpless before the least breakdown, and could not repair it if they did understand it. Run on that basis any machine is costly.

Wise parents who own machines are bringing up their boys to be handy around the little home garage. The youngsters early learn to keep the machine taut and trim, and to make all ordinary adjustments. Where a machine is thus nursed along at home, and driven carefully, it ought to be cheaper than the cost of a horse and carriage for a moderate yearly mileage.

Farm young people in particular are usually able to handle a machine cheaply, as their daily experience gives them constant practice in making their own repairs and meeting exigencies. The farmer of the future needs an automobile to keep his young folks contented. In the hands of a fellow of enterprise, it ought to more than pay for itself as a business tool.

Brighter Prospects.

(Philadelphia Record.)

One indication of improving business is that large importations have reduced the government deficit $5,000,000. Another is that, while railroad gross earnings fell further behind last year in the third week of February than they did in the second week, yet with the exception of the second week the deficit compared with last year was smaller than it had been for many weeks. Bank clearings last week were nearly a third larger than the week before and only 1.6 per cent less than a year ago, and the February clearings were only 7.4 less. Outside of New York city the decrease in clearings was only 3.6 per cent.

The February output of pig iron was 73,000 tons greater than in the longer month of January. In two months there has been an increase of 30 in the number of active furnaces. Many cotton mills are running on full time. The shipyards are very busy. There is a little improvement in boots and shoes. Business in glass is well maintained and one of the Pennsylvania centers of the industry reports the best business it has had for years, due in great part to orders from England, which used to get its glass from Belgium and Germany. There has been some expansion in steel. Money rates are easy, but lenders are pretty cautious. Not much business is doing in securities, but the market is firm, and there is considerable investment in bonds.

The international trade balance for three months is $411,000,000. While this is primarily due to reduced imports, it is intimately connected with foreign premiums on dollars and the shifting of financial business from European money centers to New York. A favorable balance on merchandise is normal; there are indications now of a time when there will be a favorable balance in the aggregate of all foreign transactions.

Be Proud of Newark.

It is your own town, if you live here whether you happen to have other investments than your life. It belongs to you in every sense of the word—and you are going to be judged largely by outside people by the place in which you live. Certainly you are going to be set down as a failure if you go about knocking the town that is yours.

You have an interest in everything in the city. In its streets, in its public utilities, in its parks and schools and churches. You are a part of them. They are influencing your life with every breath you draw. No body can rob you of your inheritance—this splendid city has been given to you, as a place in which to live, and in which to work, and in which to transact business. It was devised to you, in a sense, by those who have gone before—and you are being assisted in the enjoyment of the place as an abode by the splendid fellows who are trying to make it the best spot on the earth in which to live. Don't you think you owe it to yourself, if to nobody else, to speak kindly of the city, to encourage the workers, to help the officers, to give it a good name before all of the people with whom you come into contact?

Humiliating Situation.

Our present situation is humiliatingly suggestive of that which preceded the war of 1812, when our commerce was raided by both Great Britain and France under pretensions not more arrogant than those set forth in the present note of the allies. If both courage and wisdom have not deserted our government it will make a reply to the allies suitable to the provocation.—Boston Transcript.

Naughty Times.

That grave and dignified paper, the New York Times, is advocating short dresses for women, the regulation shortness being eight inches from the ground. Here is a part of its argument:

"We are emboldened to say, also, that both the size and shape of the feet of New York women and their taste in footwear justify the short skirts."

And then the Times goes on to tell about bowlegged men and how infrequent they are, and turning to the other sex, continues the subject, but becomes so vague and bashful that one cannot tell what the Times means. In fact, the old bachelor got scared and took to the wild brush.—Ohio State Journal.

Congressman Ashbrook.

Hon. William A. Ashbrook ceased to be the Congressman in the old Seventeenth district, for the last eight years, of which Tuscarawas county was a part, on the fourth of this month. Mr. Ashbrook was re-elected to Congress last fall by a handsome plurality in the new Seventeenth district, made up of Ashland, Coshocton, Delaware, Knox and Licking counties. While the Advocate Tribune differs widely from Mr. Ashbrook as to certain policies, it must in truth and fairness be said that he is a capable, industrious Congressman, ever ready and takes pleasure in performing any service he can for his constituents, which accounted for his signal popularity in the old district, and he will extend the same courtesies to his constituents in the new district.—New Philadelphia Advocate-Tribune. THE PRESENT DAY.

We know not what a day may bring; the future's veiled from all; tomorrow we may dance and sing, or stand around and bawl.

The dawning of another day may bring us sweet relief, or it may fetch along our way a wagon-load of grief. I'm glad our vision cannot pierce that veil of joy and dread; the life we live would be too fierce, if we could see ahead. Today is ours, this cheer-ful day the gods have placed on file; so let us gambol while we may, and wear a beaming smile. We travel on a sunlit plain between two chasms vast; to fear the future is as vain as to regret the past. Today is ours, and it's a day of which we should be proud; enjoy it ere it slides away to join the phantom crowd. It was tomorrow ere it came, it's yesterday when gone; but while it plays its fleeting game, it's ours, so help me John! So let us make this day so slick that in the time to come, when we are old and tired and sick, by years knocked out of plumb, we'll sigh, "That was a golden day, the best day known to men, and all our ills would troop away, if it could come again!"

Greatness of a Nation Is Measured by Her Service to Other Countries

By Rev. C. S. MACFARLAND, Ph. D., Secretary of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America

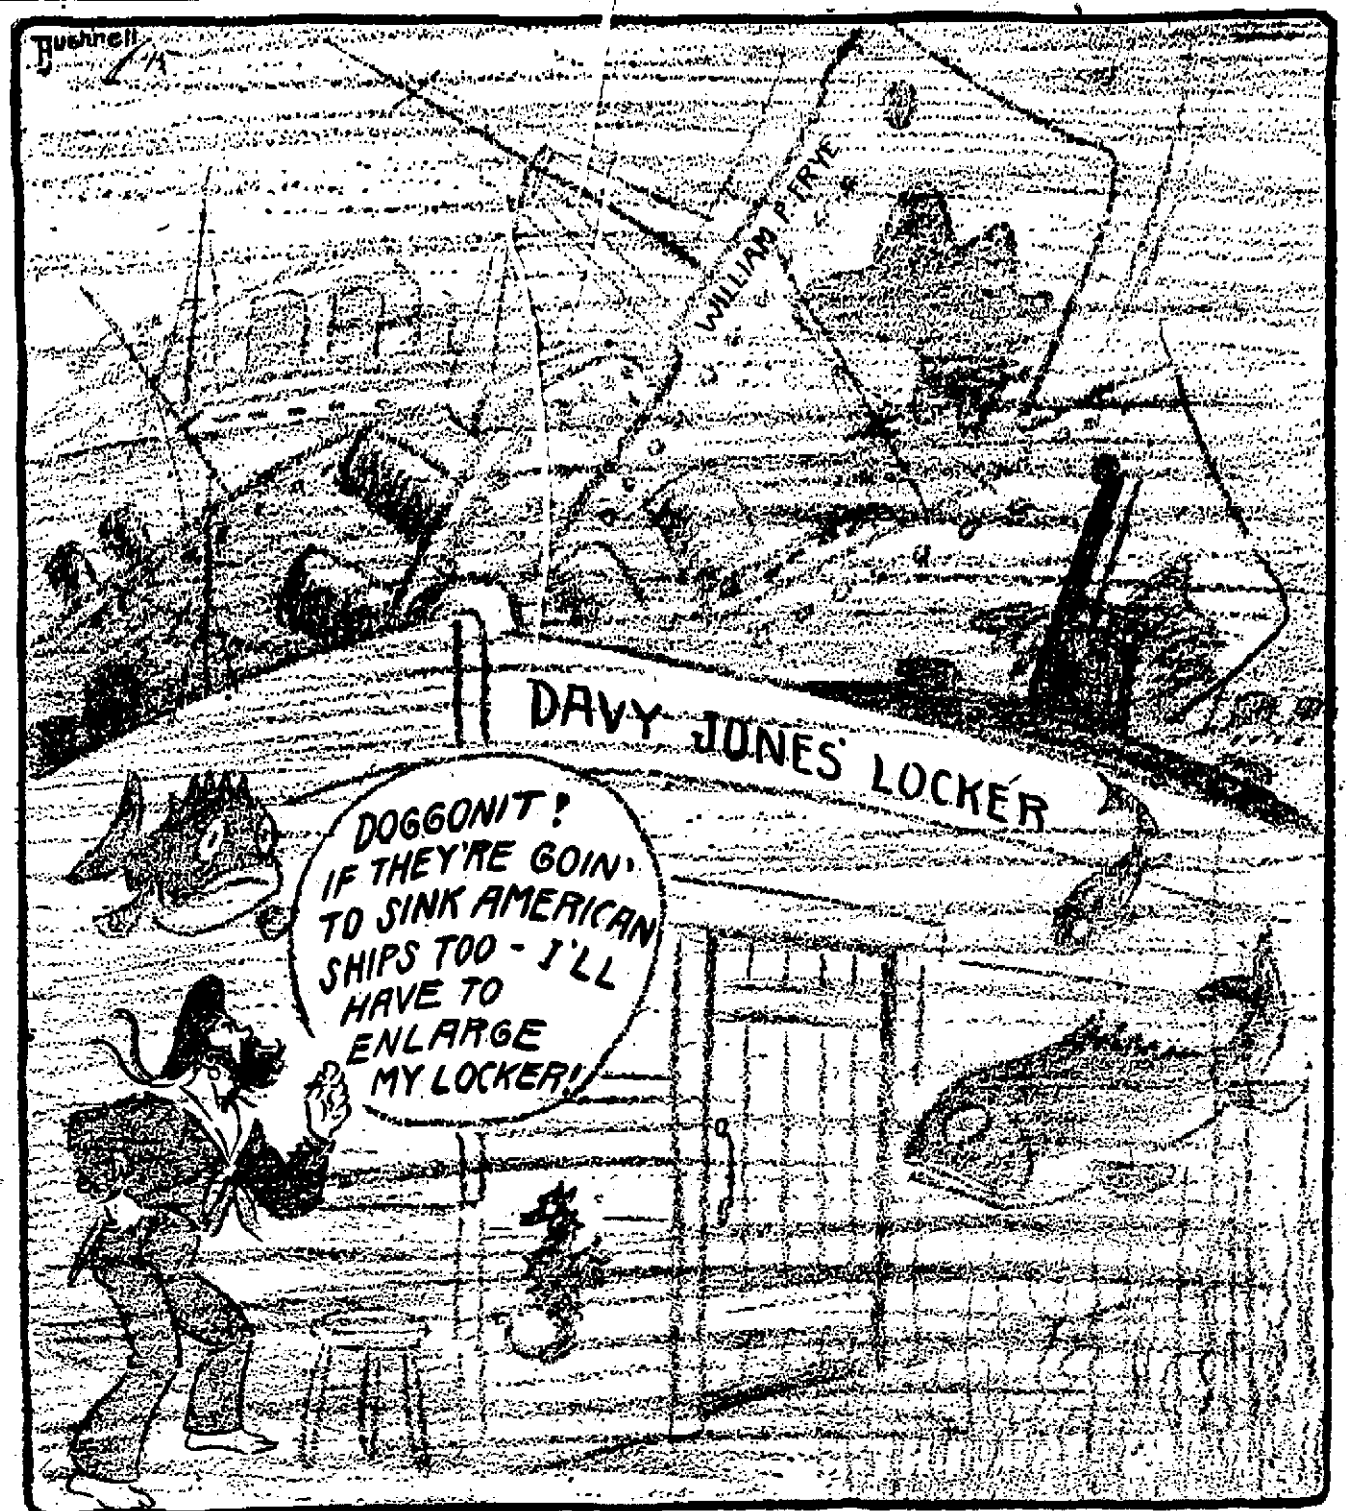

Oh, if the nations of Europe had only thought less about their foes without and more about their foes within! We blame them because they are not democratic either in form or in fact, but perhaps there is still greater danger to the nation that has the form without the fact; THAT RAISES HOPES BEFORE ITS PEOPLE WHICH IT DOES NOT ENABLE THEM TO REALIZE AND IDEALS BEFORE THE WORLD WHICH IT SAIBLY FAILS TO DEMONSTRATE WITHIN ITSELF.

The nations are still suspicious of us. Japan has an attitude of watchful waiting as to whether or not we are a just people. China has her alternate hope and doubt and is mercurial in her temper toward us. The little nations to the south are not quite sure of us, and the most hopeful sign of this day and generation was that three of them did try us once and did not find us wanting.

We need to arm ourselves against them. Yes, but we shall do it best by disarming them of their doubts and their lingering suspicions. Confidence is the only ultimate security of the relations between nations. The unselfish return of China's indemnity was worth at least one battleship to this nation.

THE NEW PATRIOTISM WILL BEGIN TO TRANSFORM THE WORLD WHEN ONE NATION MAKES HER OWN PEOPLE SEE THAT TO LOVE ONE PEOPLE TRULY IS TO LOVE ALL PEOPLES AND THAT THE LOSS OF A NATION'S HONOR IS INFINITELY WORSE THAN THE LOSS OF LAND AND THAT HER SERVICE TO OTHER NATIONS IS THE MEASURE OF HER GREATNESS.

Boy Was Right.

Jack Andrews was really the dullest boy in the class. One day, however, his answer to a question in geography gave promise of a new dawn of intelligence.

"Which New England state has two capitals, Jack?" asked the teacher. This was while Rhode Island still had two capitals.

"New Hampshire," quickly answered the boy.

"Indeed! Name them."

GO TO CHURCH The Church Is the Gateway to Real Happiness

GO TO CHURCH if you wish to be saved.

There is a hell. No doubt about that. Like heaven, it BEGINS HERE AND NOW. Recently the newspapers carried a story relating the suicide of a well known man. Ten years before he murdered his young wife and allowed another to be executed for it. He wrote: "I can endure it no longer. Each day the awful secret plunges me into the torment of the damned." For ten years he had lived in hell and then, like Judas, went out into the darkness and hanged himself. No writer, even with an inexhaustible vocabulary, can paint a literal fire equal to the one that exists in many a human soul. If there is no hell, why plan churches, missions, slum settlements?

THE MOMENT A MAN ENTERS A CHURCH HE FEELS BETTER. THE CHURCH IS THE GATEWAY TO HEAVEN. WHY DON'T YOU JOIN THE GO TO CHURCH THROG? YOU'LL FIND THE BEST PEOPLE IN YOUR COMMUNITY IN CHURCH. IF YOU HAVE BEEN A BACKSLIDER GET BUSY NOW. IT IS NEVER TOO LATE TO MEND. YOU'LL FIND THAT IF YOU GO TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY YOU'LL WANT TO GO TO CHURCH THE FOLLOWING SUNDAY.

There are thousands who would not dream of staying away from church on Christmas day or Easter, but who Sunday after Sunday will miss GOING TO CHURCH. It is to these people that this appeal is particularly addressed. If it is wrong to miss GOING TO CHURCH on Christmas and Easter, why is it not wrong to do so on Sunday?

WHEN THE GO TO CHURCH MOVEMENT GOT INTO FULL SWING A YEAR AGO THERE WAS A SPLENDID RESPONSE. THE CHURCHES WERE FILLED. DON'T LET THIS SPLENDID MOVEMENT DIE OUT. IT IS ONE OF THE BEST—IF NOT THE BEST—AGITATIONS THAT EVER WAS STARTED.

DO YOUR PART.
GO TO CHURCH.

The Columbus Electric Light Plant & The Newark Electric Light Plant

In 1914 the Columbus electric light plant produced 8,321,000 kilowatts at a cost of $144,362.00.

In other words it cost 1.73 cents per kilowatt to generate current.

In 1913 the cost to Columbus was 2.48 cents per kilowatt with a production of 6,723,749.

The Columbus plant is in charge of electrical engineers.

No one has ever charged the Newark plant with being in charge of electrical engineers.

We don't know how many kilowatts were produced by it last year or the year before, or the year before that.

We don't know how much per kilowatt it cost the city to produce its current.

Why? The meter is, was and has been defective and the officers in charge have known it.

For how long?

No one knows or has deemed it of sufficient importance to find out.

This is the way your public business has been conducted.

It is public ownership—but it is not business.

IRWIN CONTRASTS SPIRIT'S VOICE WITH THAT OF THE WORLD

The revival at the West End Church of Christ is growing in volume and power. Last evening to a crowded house, the evangelist spoke on the subject "Manifold Voices." He showed that many various voices are now calling mankind for allegiance or service to the wrong, while the still small voice of the Master, who stands patiently waiting and knocking at the heart's door is frequently unheard amid the confusing clamor of the varying tongues. "Revelation" 3:20 served as the evangelist's text for a very heart-searching sermon.

The evangelist strikingly contrasted the voices of the world with the still, small voice of conscience and of duty. He said that God must have a wholehearted service; that no compromise with truth or duty will answer, and that only a full surrender will satisfy the worthiness of His great Love.

Some people try wealth, fashion, travel, society and other things in vain to satisfy the human longing for happiness; and as a final resort conclude that religion is the thing they need. And in accord with this belief, open the heart's door and let the Master in—let Him in but limit His welcome; let Him in, but with reservations; let Him in, but give Him the cold spare room of the life—a place in which nothing else could live.

We should be glad to have some of the world's earthly great as our guests; but this is a privilege accorded to but few. All, however, can have the great and mighty Son of God as a constant Guest and Companion.

He ended this fascinating theme with a strong plea to take the Christ into all our plans, pleasures and pursuits, and become His willing, happy, obedient servants.

The announcements for tonight and over Sunday are as follows: Saturday night sermon to "Backsliders"; Sunday, 9:30 a. m., great Bible school; Sunday, 10:30 a. m., preaching, "Deep Sea Fishing"; Sunday, 3 p. m., "The Test of Time"; a sermon designed to remove skepticism; Sunday, 7 p. m., "The Conversion of a Moral Man." Solos at each service by Mrs. Irwin.

4 BOYS DEAD IN EXPLOSION OF OIL TANK

MEMBERS BAR ASSOCIATION OPPOSE BILL

The members of the Licking County Bar Association held a called meeting in the court room today to take action upon the bill which has been presented to the legislature taking away the jurisdiction of probate judges in six counties of the state, Licking being one of them, in partition, divorce and foreclosure cases.

A resolution was passed condemning the measure and a copy will be forwarded to the senator for this district and the representative in the legislature from Licking county.

A committee of three, Attorney Edward Kibler, Sr., J. W. Hooper and J. A. Flory, was appointed to appear before the legislative committee and request that the bill be killed.

This action was taken on the part of the local bar association in the interest of better litigation as they claim that the docket of the common pleas court is overcrowded at all times and the additional work if the bill becomes a law would result in further extension in many cases.

Like A Mighty Army Moves The Church of God

(WRITTEN FOR THE ADVOCATE BY JAMES R. HOPLEY.)

In these times almost everyone believes in the church; it has the general approval of men in all walks of life, they feel it is a community advantage as well as a moral necessity.

Believing in the church, many of them fail to appreciate what they might do to strengthen and help the work of the church.

Effective organization comes only through sympathetic and helpful relations expressed in both word and deed.

We speak of the church as being "like a mighty army," but it is an army organized for promotion of the principles of peace.

No army ever advanced very far or obtained any very marked victories unless composed of willing participants.

The private who failed in a given responsibility would be court-martialed; an officer who failed in performance of duty would be degraded and disgraced. The best soldiers advance with a song of joy.

In-so far as the church is an efficient organization it is "like a mighty army;" when its members lack the capacity for willing service, it fails of its opportunity, falls short of its duty.

Every organization must have leaders; but every effective working force must have strong, willing, hearty co-operation through and through.

"FROM A CHILD THOU HAST KNOWN THE HOLY SCRIPTURES, WHICH ARE ABLE TO MAKE THEE WISE UNTO SALVATION THROUGH FAITH."

The victories for peace will come when the forces of the church understand fully their duty, and respond cheerfully to the call.

The "Church of God" has in its power the creation of sentiment which will be priceless, uplifting, moralizing and Christianizing.

In how far are you helping to make this great result?

Throughout the country countless thousands of men are meeting from Sabbath to Sabbath, in Bible study classes, under capable teachers, studying the Word; is this with an object of being helpers?

All over the land congregations are assembling in splendid houses of worship, for participation in the services of the hour; is this merely for their personal pleasure, or are they willing and anxious to put the shoulder to the wheel all through the work?

No church is doing its most efficient service which is not filled each Sunday to its capacity, and daily spreading the Gospel to many people.

Uplifting thought is very essential but lacks in its far reaching influence if the listening ears be not willing ears, and the hearts into which the word falls, doing hearts.

"Like a mighty army" they must move with accord, with purpose, with good will and determination! Are you enlisted as a Volunteer?

RICH MAN'S HELL TO BE PICTURED AT HIGH SCHOOL

What now promises to be the big event, in local religious circles, for tomorrow afternoon, is the lecture at the High School auditorium to be delivered by W. H. Spring at 3 p. m. Arrangements are being made to handle one of the largest gatherings that has thus far turned out to hear a lecturer at this place.

Mr. Spring will use for his subject "The Rich Man in Hell," and it is said that the speaker not only explains the Bible story of Dives and Lazarus, but other Scriptures which are usually understood to support the theory of Eternal Torment, and this lecture and the manner of the speaker's presentation are most interesting, logical and instructive.

Those who have heard the lecturer states that his discourses are closely reasoned, and that he does not doubt

any portion of the Bible, but that he throws a flood of light on many scriptures hitherto misunderstood, and that while referring to the teachings of a less favored day as "hobgoblins of the creeds, and the fog of the dark ages," yet he refers most considerably to those who formulated our creeds, and states that each one of these was a step toward more light and knowledge of God. His plans, purposes and arrangements.

The statement that all should "hear first, then judge" contained in the advertisement of this meeting, seems altogether fair and just, and it is probable that a large audience will greet the lecturer, and avail themselves of this opportunity to hear. The lecture will be entirely free, and no collection will be lifted, all expenses for the meeting having been already provided for.

Divorce Petition. Olive Shaw has filed an application for divorce in the probate court against Elwood B. Shaw. The petition recites that they were married June 14, 1912, and that on February 10, 1913, defendant abandoned plaintiff without provocation and has been wilfully absent since that time; failure to provide, cruelty and showing attention to other women are also alleged. The plaintiff asks restoration to her maiden name of Olive Seary.

Coroner Jackson IN COLU MBUS TO ATTEND MEETING. Coroner W. J. THE DIET OF MILADY.

How often we see women in restaurants at noontime ordering doughnuts, coffee and perhaps sweet pickles, or worse still, potato salad, ice cream and strong tea. The business woman should learn that her general working ability and efficiency depend very much on her diet.

Highly seasoned foods, game, ragouts and spices, even moderately indulged in, will exercise most deteriorating effects upon a delicate complexion. The woman who has no capacity of restraining a gluttonous appetite will rarely acquire, before she is thirty, a heated, blotched complexion.

All alcoholic drinks and opiates concur to produce general unhealthy action of the skin, which soon will show dryness, pimples, blotches, and other discolorations. A beautiful girl or woman who makes a habit of taking spirituous liquors deliberately becomes a conspirator against her own fortune. In all cases of overeating the only remedy that can be applied is the simple one: "Don't do it."

The curse of a bad temper can be removed by the individual effort of each willful student of diet, because when the stomach is not filled with indigestible and irritating foods, you have the power to see things in their true light. To improve and increase your brain power should be the aim of the up-to-date modern woman. A woman to be beautiful must be always mentally alert. Mental activity depends upon nerve force for its motor energy and nerve force must be generated through right foods.

Your nervous energy is deficient when you say your "brain won't work" and you cannot concentrate your mind upon a subject for any length of time. If you feel cross and cranky and your head aches incessantly don't try to stimulate your brain with wines, liquors or opiates. Look to your diet instead. A digestible, brainy diet will put your nervous disorder to flight.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Common garden Sage and Sulphur makes streaked, faded or gray hair dark and glossy at once.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. One of the peculiar things about the Wilson administration is that it has caused even worse times in Canada than a girl is as pretty as a picture, but not her own.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff set a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out.

YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS

The first three months of baby's life is spent in long clothes. At the end of this time he should be put in short clothes so that he may kick and develop his legs. Don't make this change in cold weather. In early life baby needs the protection of the long, flannel skirt and dress. Twenty-seven inches is the best length for long clothes and later, if the baby has not grown too stout, you can cut off the long dresses and make them into short ones. It is most important that the new baby's clothes should fit the body and be neither too tight nor too loose, for the free movement of the chest in breathing is apt to be restricted and his digestion, interfered with if the clothing is tight. A pressure on the stomach sometimes causes the baby to vomit soon after swallowing his food. On the other hand, if the clothing is too loose, it works into folds and bunches, causing much discomfort.

Modern Woodmen.
Cedar Camp, No. 4727, M. W. of A., met on Wednesday night and held one of the best meetings that has been held this year. The occasion was the return visit of the officers and team of Buckeye Camp of Zanesville to put on the work for Cedar Camp, who visited them last month. The Zanesville visitors to the number of sixty-five arrived on a special car at 8 p. m., and brought with them a seven-piece orchestra, which furnished some delightful music. Four candidates of Cedar Camp, one candidate from Johnstown camp, and three candidates from Zanesville camp, were adopted members of the society. The work was put on by the Zanesville team and officers in a very pleasing manner. About a dozen visiting members were present from Johnstown camp, several from Hebron camp, one from Dresden camp, one from McConnellsville, and one from Utica. Several of the visiting neighbors made short remarks. After the ceremony of adoption the team of Cedar Camp put on a fancy drill for the entertainment of the visiting neighbors. The refreshment committee served over 275 members and had to make three settings to supply them all. Roast pork and gravy sweet potatoes, and cranberry sauce, and coffee were served, and every neighbor had his share and said that it was one of the best lunches that was ever served by Cedar Camp. The Zanesville visitors left on their special car at 12 o'clock and made the remark that in the near future that they would have the team and officers down to put on the work for them. Now is the time to get busy, neighbors, as another class will be adopted next month, and it is the desire of the officers that all members secure a candidate for this next class. If you know of a prospect, call up one of the deputies after the prospect and you will get the credit for securing him.

Ben Hur.
Alpha Court, No. 51, will meet next Friday night, March 19, in Woodman Hall, South Park Place. Installation of officers and other important business matters are to be transacted. Both courts have united and a large attendance is desired. Members of both courts come. There will be a social time after the business session. The prospect for the future are bright.

Daughters of Veterans.
The Daughters of Veterans held their semi-monthly meeting Tuesday evening. The meeting was unusually well attended and proved to be very interesting. Comrade Avery was obligated, and three candidates, Mrs. Mikesell, Mrs. Mabel Redman and Miss Mark Mikesell initiated, made welcome to the "shrine of mysteries." The relief and visiting committee reported many calls made on the sick, and floral committee sending flowers and flags to sick comrades.

These committees are zealous in good works and have accomplished much during the year. Local communications were read by the secretary, Mrs. Young, and monthly report submitted by the treasurer, Miss Dawson. Bettie Zane Tent 28, Zanesville, cordially invited the members of Tent 25, Newark, to be their guests at their next regular meeting, March 23. The invitation was kindly accepted. For the good of the order Comrades Ilund and Avery gave practical talks on patriotism. The latter closing his remarks by presenting the president, Mrs. Hickman, in behalf of the order, a flag for her station. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served in the dining-room. The next meeting will be Thursday evening, March 25.

There will be an important meeting of Incho Camp, Sons of Veterans, at the G. A. R. quarters, Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial building, at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The re-organization will be completed and sample uniforms will be on exhibition. A full attendance is desired. Jos. W. Horner, commander.

K. O. P.
Newark Lodge, No. 13.
Newark Lodge, No. 13, opened in regular session on Thursday night with the largest crowd of the season present. The knight rank was conferred upon five candidates in full form. The team was at its best and many were the compliments that were passed upon the splendid way in which the work was conferred. The uniform rank drill team was present and put on a drill that was thoroughly appreciated by all present. We hope to have them with us again soon.

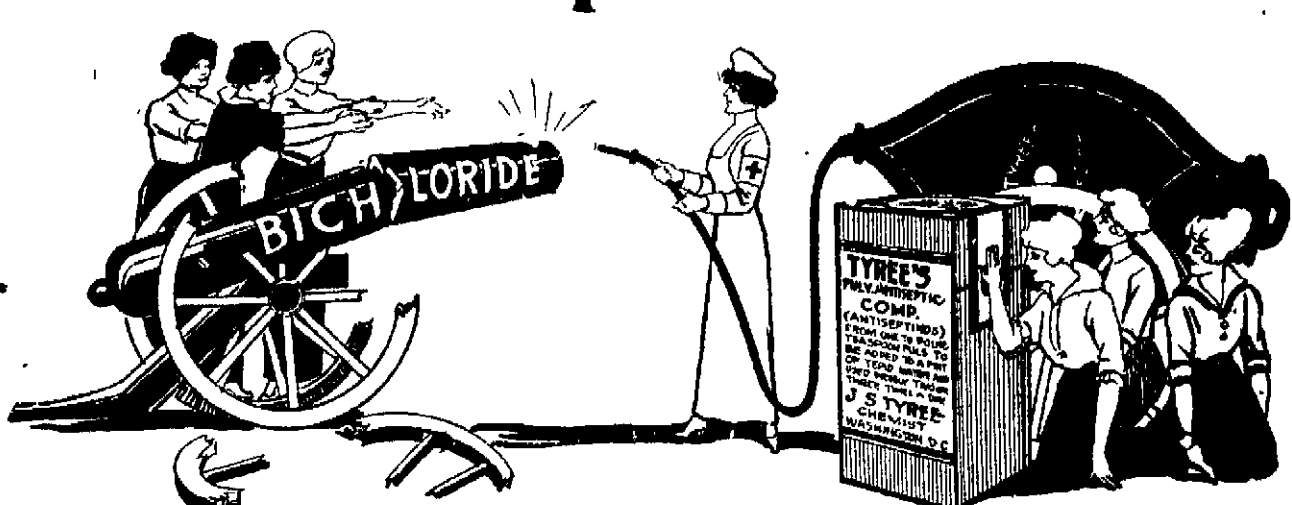

Brother Rohrer, county deputy, from Granville, accompanied by a delegation from Altamaha Lodge, No. 296, was with us and inspected the lodge. Brother Rohrer gave us a fine talk along the line of Pythianism, and also offered a few good suggestions that if put into practice cannot but help to better the degree work.

Short talks were made by some of the visitors and also the candidates when called upon responded with interesting remarks. After lodge closing plates were passed and the entertainment committee served hot baked beans, sandwiches and coffee, following which cigars and a general good time were in order. The meeting Thursday night was the best one held by No. 13 this year and any of the brothers, who could have been and were not there, certainly missed a treat. But there is always something of the order can rest assured that the glad hand will be extended at any time. On next Thursday night there will be work in the page rank.

Roland Lodge, K. of P.
The page rank was conferred on Tuesday evening by Roland Lodge, No. 305. Four applications were received and referred to committees. There will be no work next Tuesday evening as most of the officers and the knight rank team will go to Alexandria that evening to confer the knight rank for the lodge of that place. Captain Woolinsky will take a squad of his uniform rank boys to put on a drill. All told about forty or fifty of the knights will make the trip in automobiles. It is desired that all who expect to take part in the work meet at the hall by 6:30 so all can get away by 7 o'clock. A big time is anticipated, as elaborate preparations have been made for this event. A rehearsal will be held at the castle hall, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to "brush up" somewhat in the team work, as no flaws will be tolerated.

from a commercial and not from a political viewpoint, resulted in powerful intrigues against him which resulted in his removal in 1903 as minister of finance.

He went for a time to Paris, but returned to St. Petersburg when the Russo-Japanese war was in full swing. He neither offered nor was asked for advice in regard to the conduct of the struggle, but when Theodore Roosevelt, then president of the United States, prevailed upon the emperor to consider terms of peace, the tide turned and practically the entire nation turned in demanding the selection of Witte as plenipotentiary.

At the Portsmouth conference he succeeded in gaining terms under which Russia was not obliged to pay a cash indemnity to Japan. This was considered a remarkable achievement and Witte again became a hero in his own country. The emperor rewarded him for his services by appointing him a count.

It was at this time that the Russian people began clamoring harder than ever for a share in the government. When the imperial manifesto was issued, which granted some of the demands, Witte became premier in Russia's first real cabinet on October 31, 1905.

His appointment as president of the council of ministers was announced a week later. The next day he resigned his office to support the plan for a convocation of the national assembly. Because of the opposition of powerful interests opposed to democratic reforms, he experienced considerable difficulty in forming a cabinet.

The liberalists refused to lift a finger to aid him. At the second session of his cabinet on November 11, a project was considered for placing the council of empire on an elective basis.

This was a difficult period in the internal history of Russia. There were serious labor troubles in all parts of the empire. Serious threats on the part of the Poles to proclaim a revolution, led Count Witte to advise the emperor to declare martial law in Poland.

The number of enemies of the premier steadily increased and the demand for his removal gained strength.

NEWARK WON ARGUMENT ON HOME STAGE

DEBATING TEAM GIVEN UNANIMOUS DECISION HERE, BUT LOST IN ZANESVILLE.

Clay City Team Had Clean Record, While Mt. Vernon Lost in Both.

Newark high school debating team won from Mt. Vernon in this city last evening, and Zanesville defeated Newark in that city at the same time. The decision of the Newark judges was unanimous in favor of the local debaters, and at Zanesville it was two for Zanesville and one for Newark. Zanesville also won over Mt. Vernon at the latter city.

It was the seventh annual debate of the Central Ohio Debating league, and the local team was composed of Miss Lou Ella Hawkins, Edward Pearsall and Raymond Crawford with Forest Keckley as alternate. Those on the Mt. Vernon team were Robert Eastman, Miss Olive Black and Glenn Sparks. The Newark team at Zanesville was composed of Robert Swingle, Robert Wilkin and Leland Stevenson with Helen Peck as alternate. They had the negative side of the question.

An audience which filled the large auditorium and balcony greeted the orators in this city. The stage was nicely decorated with potted plants, cut flowers and greenery, while pen-nants were in evidence everywhere. The Mt. Vernon table was decorated in their colors—yellow and black. The high school girls occupied the balcony and they were gaily dressed in white with flowing red ties. The boys occupied the lower floor. The high school orchestra furnished music throughout the evening.

Class songs and yells were given by the rooters for the two teams, led by their cheer leaders. There were cheers for Mt. Vernon and the latter responded with cheers for their opponents. The girls also were well-trained and helped cheer their favorites on to victory.

The debate opened promptly at 8 o'clock with Attorney E. S. Randolph presiding. He announced that Prof. J. H. Dickson of Wooster University, Prof. C. J. Marshall of Muskingum College, and Prof. Don L. Burke of Otterbein University, would serve as judges, and gave each speaker ten minutes with five minutes each for rebuttal.

The question was: "Resolved, That the federal government should own and operate the railroads in the United States." Newark had the affirmative and the first speaker was Miss Lou Ella Hawkins. She presented arguments for the affirmative in an able and concise manner and her delivery and thought were excellent. She was followed by Robert Eastman of Mt. Vernon, for the negative. The young man, although still in short trousers, displayed exceptional ability in handling his side of the question. He was handicapped by reason of the fact that he substituted at the last moment for one of his team-mates. Edward Pearsall was next for the local team, and proved that he was well versed in the subject at issue. He was followed by Miss Olive Black for the negative, and the young woman handled the question in a manner which left no doubt but that she had studied the subject at issue from all angles. Raymond Crawford closed for Newark, and made a number of telling arguments in favor of the affirmative. Glenn Sparks, for the visitors, touched on many points opposing government ownership.

After the rebuttal the judges handed in their decision and it was unanimous in favor of the affirmative team. The announcement was properly celebrated by the victors and after adjournment the visitors were entertained at various homes of high school students.

LAUGHLIN'S TEAM WAS VICTORIOUS OVER INDIANA

By unanimous vote of judges in Columbus and at Bloomington, Ind., both the affirmative and negative debating machines of Ohio State University last night were superior to those of the University of Indiana. It was the first time in several years that a unanimous vote of judges was recorded in any debate between the two institutions, and probably the first time in the history of the Ohio-Indiana debates that Ohio State won by two unanimous decisions.

The forensic battle between the Ohio State affirmative team and the Indiana negative team in Ohio State chapel was attended by a capacity audience. The auditors listened to a heated discussion of the question: "Resolved, That the federal government should own and operate the telephone and telegraph systems in the United States."

Ralph W. Laughlin of Newark, son of Rev. Charles Laughlin of the East Main Street M. E. church, was member of the Ohio State negative team which debated at Bloomington. He was a member of the high school debating team here several years ago.

"The Siege and Fall of the Alamo." This picture is controlled by the Daughters of the Republic. A mammoth production, costing $75,000, featuring four Universal stars, with two world renowned Spanish actors, with a cast of 4000 men.

In the gray light on Sunday morning the bugle sounded, and the bands struck up the Spanish air, "Diguellito," which was a signal for no quarters, and at 9 o'clock the Alamo had fallen. Late in the afternoon, by orders of Santa Anna, the bodies of the dead Texans were collected and piled together with an alternate layer of wood and covered with brush, and the torch put thereto. The smoke from this funeral pyre ascended as an incense to Texas freedom.

The scenario of this picture was written by Senator A. D. Rodgers and Chester Terrill, the speaker of the house of the state of Texas, with an advisory board of fourteen state educators, directed by H. C. Matthews, one of the foremost directors of the motion-picture world. The picture is authentic with history in every detail. Four thousand Mexicans, after being drilled for weeks by two Mexican army officers in the old-time military tactics and science, go to make this production one of the most realistic, military, historical and educational productions on the American screen. This picture is endorsed by the educators wherever it has been shown. Remember the date, Wednesday, March 17.

SUSPECT MURDER OF YOUNG MAN IN FAYETTE COUNTY

Washington, C. H., March 13.—The body of John Bainter, aged 25, was found yesterday under a stable on the farm of Mary Dore, four miles east of Washington C. H. Bainter is supposed to have been murdered and his body buried on the night of December 11.

The police have arrested John Denner and his wife and his brother, Jesse Denner, for the alleged crime. The local police say that Mrs. Denner made a confession involving the two men. She was arrested in Greenville and brought here. She led Chief Moore, Sheriff Jones, Mayor Coffey and several other officials to the Dore farm, it is said.

The body was unearthed and removed to the morgue. Mrs. Denner says that her husband told her that he and his brother had shot Bainter through the head with a revolver and moved the body to the Dore farm. The wagon that was used to remove the body was burned within a few yards of where Bainter was found, it is alleged.

The Denner brothers were arrested this afternoon at a local attorney's office. It is said they wished to gain some personal papers Bainter had in his possession.

Chief Moore worked up his clew from a letter he received from Piqua.

Mrs. Bainter was in Indiana at the time of the alleged crime.

TO ALL BUYERS OF MILK AND CREAM

The Licking Creamery Company begs to announce that beginning with March and continuing until further notice, it will make a regular monthly award of (2) two $1.00 sheets of milk tickets upon each of its retail milk wagon routes to private consumers of milk and cream throughout the city.

These awards will be made on the 15th day of each month.

A duplicate receipt stub from every sheet of tickets sold during the preceding month will be placed in a box from which the stubs to receive awards will be drawn by a disinterested party, each route will be handled separately.

THERE IS BUT ONE CONDITION QUALIFYING THESE AWARDS.

All competitors must have their accounts with The Licking Creamery Company paid in full for the month preceding the one in which any given drawing occurs.

In other words, should a duplicate of one of your ticket receipt stubs be drawn March 15th, it would not receive an award unless your account was paid in full for the month of February.

This is absolutely the only requirement made, thereby characterizing this proposition as being extremely clean cut and liberal.

We hope it will please the public. Watch for the first drawing. Your name may be among the fortunate ones to be announced in the papers on March 16th, following the first drawing.
